CARTER STRANG SELECTED AS CLEVELAND METROPOLITAN BAR FOUNDATION TRUSTEE

Tucker Ellis LLP is proud to announce that partner Carter Strang has been selected to serve a three-year term as a Cleveland Metropolitan Bar Foundation (CMBF) trustee. The CMBF introduced its new slate of trustees as part of the Cleveland Metropolitan Bar Association's (CMBA) 2016 Annual Meeting on June 3.

Mr. Strang is a member of the Tucker Ellis Trial Department, where he practices in the areas of mass tort, product liability, and environmental law. He is a past president of the CMBA and the Federal Bar Association, Northern District of Ohio Chapter. Mr. Strang created the CMBA's nationally acclaimed Louis Stokes Scholars Program, and he created and coordinates the Tucker Ellis award-winning Pipeline Diversity Program.

ABOUT THE CLEVELAND METROPOLITAN BAR FOUNDATION

The Cleveland Metropolitan Bar Foundation is the charitable arm and partner of the Cleveland Metropolitan Bar Association. It raises funds to support important CMBA public outreach activities – organized primarily under the Justice For All umbrella – including pro bono legal service, law-related education, tutoring, and mentoring programs. Additionally, the CMBF assists the CMBA's diversity and inclusion initiatives aimed at improving the pipeline of minority students entering the legal profession.
